

May the Lord you choose for life
Prove as faithful as his Wife Let his Eyes be black are blue May they al ways smile on you

When rocks and hills divide us and you no more I see Just take your pen or pencil and Write a line to me

May you live happy each day of your life get a good husband and make a good Wife.

While in your album so pure and White let none but friends presume to Write and may each line with friendship given direct the readers thoughts to heaven

May he who chose the lilies and marks the sparrows fall Protect and save you Fannie and guide you safe through all

Your friend
